FRANCE HOLDING OUT FOR U-BOATS, COAST ARMAMENT

Willing to Negotiate With U. S. Further in Matter, Premier Cables.

AGREES TO NAVAL RATIO

British Representatives Present to Conference Proposal That Submarine Be Abolished But Meets With No Encouragement From Others.

PARIS, Dec. 23.—Premier Briand has sent Ambassador Jusserand in Washington final and definite acceptance of the capital ship ratio. France however, it is stated, maintains her position regarding submarines and coast defense ships, although she is willing to negotiate.

France insists that her demands are necessary for her security; it was indicated but is disposed to cooperate with the United States as far as possible.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Great Britain's plea that the submarine be banished from the seven seas was presented to the arms conference today but it received no support from any other power.

In turn the spokesman of France, Italy and Japan replied that they regarded submarines when properly employed, as a legitimate and valuable arm of naval strength and were unprepared to see them abolished.

The American delegates took no final stand on the question but suggested that the conference turn its efforts toward such a revision of international practices as would prevent a repetition of the ruthless submarine methods of the World War.

MUCH SOUGHT BANDIT CAUGHT, CHUM KILLEDBy Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—Clyde Thomas, whose companion, Earl Gilbert, was shot and killed last night after they had kidnapped and robbed Mrs. James J. Callaghan, her daughter and brother, confessed to the police today that he and his partner had participated in several holdups, including the Utah train robbery last August and the sudden interruption of a card party at the home of Jacob Lobe, a wealthy lawyer, last June.

Following the confession police took into custody Miss Mary Roberts who is said to have been an intimate acquaintance of the dead man.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—Victims of the bandit who robbed several passengers on the Baltimore & Ohio night train, Tuesday night today called at the police station in an endeavor to identify Clyde Thomas of Seattle, who was captured just night after his companion, Carl Gilbert, of Omaha, had been killed by a policeman. Thomas and Gilbert had kidnapped Mrs. James J. Callaghan, wife of the former manager of the Chicago American League and Pittsburgh National league ball clubs, and her daughter, Margaret, and George Hurden, her brother. Just after they had stopped into an automobile in front of their home, a policeman leaning from the running board of the pursuing car commanded by Mr. Callaghan, killed Gilbert and forced Thomas to surrender after a wild zig-zag through the streets of the South Side which ended when the car was wrecked by the robbers in attempting to turn.

Little Prospect Of Snow Christmas, Is Forecast Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Warmer weather, with rain, promised today to destroy snow for Christmas over all eastern half of the country. West of the Mississippi where there is snow it probably will remain, reports said.

Weather bureau officials said there was a possibility that the rain falling today or to-morrow for tonight east of the Mississippi might not be sufficient to melt all snow on ground in some sections but southward from Ohio river and southern border of Pennsylvania there was little likelihood of any remaining.

The weather will be colder generally on Christmas day the bureau said.

Fifty Thousand Boxes of Candy, 15,000 Calendars Treat of Union Supply Co.

For many years the Union Supply company gave a box of candy to every child on the plant where the store was located. Owing to conditions during the early part of the World War, this practice was discontinued. A short time ago word was received by the operating department from President J. W. Anawalt that a treat would be given this year, and arrangements have been made accordingly.

This evening at 4 o'clock children at every Union Supply company store will receive a one-pound box of Remer's assorted candies, and every woman will receive a handsome calendar.

There will be a Santa Claus at every store, and music and snow-making will be a feature at some of the stores.

Arrangements have been carefully made by the store managers and their assistants, ably assisted by the men officials of the R. C. Prichard Coke company, whereby the children can be handled without accidents and everyone entitled to a treat will receive their box of candy or calendar at the store or community center.

It is the belief of the Union Supply company that in this year of business depression they should see to it that every child receives a box of candy.

About 50,000 boxes candy and 15,000 calendars will be distributed.

LOVE SPURNED IS MOTIVE FOR CRIME AT MT. PLEASANT

Anna Eject Jilts Soldier Who Insists on Remaining in Service.

HER SPINAL CORD CUT

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Dec. 23.—An X-ray photograph of the wound in the neck of Miss Anna Eject, 23 years old, who was shot down in Church street Wednesday night by Fred Sted, a cast off sweetheart, taken at the Memorial hospital yesterday, showed that the bullet had severed her spinal cord and that it did not go through the neck as first reported but lodged therein. The girl is paralyzed, and there is said to be no chance whatever of her recovery.

The bullet which pierced the girl's arm grazed the abdomen, indicating that it was fired as she was falling after being hit by the first shot.

A photograph of the wound inflicted by Sted on himself revealed the bullet under the flesh on the opposite side from the wound and lying below the heart line. No effort has been made to remove it. Sted's condition is also reported to be critical.

According to a relative of Sted it was love spurned by the girl which must have prompted the shooting. Before entering the service with Company E, 116th Infantry, in the World War, Sted and Anna were sweethearts, the relative said. Anna wore a ring given her by Sted but whether they were actually engaged to be married was not made known. During the war they corresponded. All was well after the return of Sted from France until he determined to re-enlist. To this, it is said, the girl objected, indicating that if he intended to remain in the service their love affair might as well be called off. When Sted carried out his intention of re-entering the service Anna returned his ring.

After his term of two years had expired Sted returned to Mount Pleasant but the girl avoided him, it was said. Later he went to Cleveland and married a girl of that city but they did not get along well and a divorce was the result.

After he had secured a divorce Sted wrote to Anna and sent her the ring, but she spurned it and matted it back to him. There had been no resumption of the correspondence after that, it is said, and it is claimed Anna did not know of the arrival of Sted in Mount Pleasant recently.

Miss Eject is a Bohemian girl. In the language of her people the name is spelled Yezek, and that is the name by which her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Yezek, who live on a farm near Alice, are known. The girl is described as very pretty, of medium height and with dark hair and eyes.

SHULMAN STORE LOOTED OF GOODS VALUED AT $400

Footprints Indicate Two Men and Boy Were Perpetrators of Crime.

THEY WORK LEISURELY

Robbers last night made a haul at the store of A. Shulman in North Pittsburg street, securing goods valued at about $400. Three suitcases full of various articles of clothing were taken, the cash register was broken and the rear door somewhat damaged.

The job had the marks of having been worked by two men and a boy. Footprints in the rear of the shop plainly showed the mark of a heel from a boy's shoe.

Entrance was gained through the back door. This was heavily barred but after two of them had been broken away a small person, evidently a boy, got through and lifted away an iron slab.

The robbers took plenty of time in selecting their loot. When Mr. Shulman opened the store this morning the floor was littered with goods. Nothing was secured in the cash register.

Between 18 and 20 dozen pairs of silk stockings were taken together with three dozen silk shirts, one or two dozen pairs of trousers, a dozen caps, two dozen neckties, a quantity of handkerchiefs and three suitcases.

A silk waist purchased by a Christian gift by a young woman employed at the store, was also taken. None of the suits left at the establishment to be cleaned or pressed were missing.

From the manner in which hats and caps were scattered over the floor the robbers must have selected the color and size desired.

The robbery took place early this morning, police believe, because of the footprint in the earth back of the shop. Before that time the covered the ground.

BODY OF SLAIN CHILD IS FOUND HIDDEN IN CLOSET

He left an hour later alone. Police were seeking him today. The girl's father is under indictment in connection with an attack on a girl, the police said. He has not been seen here for some time.

Logan Rush to Furnish Coal to Worthy Poor as Long as Demand Requires

The first car of coal donated to the needy and worthy poor of Connellsville by Logan Rush a few days ago has been entirely distributed, and the committee composed of Mrs. R. S. McDaniel, Adjutant John Campbell and A. L. Daniels, representing the Red Cross, Salvation Army and Elks, says it is still delayed by numerous appeals from families which, upon the suggestion of the committee, chose to have an other car of coal come forward without delay.

Immediately upon having this fact brought to his attention, Mr. Rush, who at present is in Philadelphia, telephoned from that city to Mr. Daniels, stating that so long as the committee assured him there was need of additional coal to care for families that could not purchase it for themselves, just as long he would gladly furnish, free of charge, as many more tons as were needed to care for the situation. This generous offer on the part of Mr. Rush was promptly accepted by the representatives of the various philanthropic organizations which are holding the matter. The Elks paying all freight and baggage, and Mr. Rush at once gave directions to his Connellsville office to have another car of coal come forward without delay.

The car should arrive in Connellsville not later than next Monday or Tuesday and will be distributed in one-ton lots, to all those who make application to the committee who are found worthy of assistance.

HARDING VIEW OF TREATY MAY GUIDE DEBATE IN SENATE

Difference in Interpretation Is Likely to Be Brought Up Again.

WHY JAPAN WAS INCLUDED

United States, Requiring a Particular Form of Protection for Hawaii, Wanted Treaty Framed to Also Cover Home Islands of Japan.

By Mark Sullivan
National Political Correspondent of The Courier and the New York Post.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—For 36 hours or more this town has buzzed with what is referred to, roughly, as the "Harding-Hughes-Japanese homelands" episode. In official quarters, and in the conference between the officials and the newspaper men, there is for the present disposition to say nothing more about it; but in the private conversations of politicians, senators and newspaper men it is the only subject.

In any event, if not immediately, the subject is certain to compose the burden of the debate when the Senate begins to discuss the treaty.

For making the incident clear to the general public, the best method is a chronological attempt. Just a week ago some of what we have learned to call humorously the "Commbounds" settled out in the four-power treaty the fact that the language is such as to cover the homelands of Japan in the same sense that it covers the main islands of the Pacific. This caused something of a sensation, for the general assumption had been that the treaty was meant to cover merely the smaller islands of the Pacific.

The newspaper men asked the members of the American delegation about it, and the members of the American delegation said that it was quite true; that it was meant to be so, and that the only incorrect thing about it all was the disposition to make a sensational issue out of it by attributing it to implications broader than the actual language of the treaty really conveys.

In the newspaper conference with President Harding on Tuesday some of the newspaper men asked President Harding whether he felt that the treaty covered the homelands of Japan.

He replied that he did not. This reply created another sensation, for practically every newspaper man in the room had been told by one or more of the American delegates that the treaty does cover the homelands of Japan; that it had been framed with the intention of covering it, and

DECEMBER TERM CRIMINAL COURT ABRUPTLY ENDS

Two Liquor Defendants Fail to Appear and Bail Is Forfeited.

SENTENCE COURT TUESDAY

The December term of criminal court in Uniontown came to an abrupt close this morning when Sam Mike and Child Beyer of Masontown were called for trial on illegal liquor selling charges and did not appear. Their bail of $1,000 each was ordered forfeited.

Sentences will be imposed Tuesday.

It was announced,

Joe Mirkovich, proprietor of a pool room at Masontown, was convicted of having beer in his possession and having emphysema sell it.

In a sealed verdict Anna Overk of Isabella was acquitted of a charge of robbery preferred by Simon Merchino, a merchant. It was alleged that the girl pilfered $100 while she was riding with Merchino in a trolley from Allison to Republic. The girl testified that Merchino made improper proposals to her and attempted to assault her and that in her struggle to defend herself she did not have time even think of money the man might have.

Questions as to the ownership of an automobile brought Smith King, Charles W. Miles of Dawson as defendants in cross-suits before Judge J. C. Work on charges of larceny. The costs were divided equally between them. The case was one to be settled in civil court rather than criminal.

Miles was said to have purchased the car from Smith but refused to return it until all of the notes had been paid. Miles was alleged to have taken the car from a garage in Connellsville where it was being repaired and to have driven it to Dawson where it was found along the road later, broken up.

Four liquor cases were disposed of yesterday before Judge C. H. Report in Uniontown, three of which were convictions and the other an acquittal with the costs placed on the prosecutor, County Detective John J. Rusell.

Frank Armezyk of Brownsville was convicted on charges of manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor.

Sam Manley of Masontown was convicted on charges of illegal sale of liquor. Joseph Bolger, New Salem merchant, was convicted of illegal sale of liquor. Phillip Johnson, owner of Uniontown was acquitted on charges of violation of the liquor laws and the jury placed the costs on the prosecutor, William McNatt, Uniontown patrolman, arrested Johnson on charges of suspicion and when he was searched at the police station four bottles of Jackey was found on his person.

FRIDAY EVENING, DEC. 28, 1921.

CONNELLSVILLE'S BEST CHRISTMAS.

Never before have so many agencies been active in making Christmas in Connellsville a joyous occasion for everybody. While the long continued depression in business and industry has prevented many persons making as liberal provision as they would like for the remembrance of friends, and others have been denied the pleasure of making any provision at all, Christmas buying has been on a larger scale than was really expected under the circumstances. What some persons have lacked in the matter of preparations is being made up in other ways, all tending to bring the season's cheer to many homes.

The Salvation Army, by reason of its special mission as friend of the needy and distressed, has acquired accurate information as to the condition of families whose bread-winners are out of employment and is making systematic effort to provide relief in a form best suited to the circumstances. To carry on this work the aid of all generous hearted people must be given and is being given.

The Boy Scouts by the very simple expedient of collecting and repairing used and broken toys, then turning them over to the Salvation Army for distribution, will gladden the hearts of many youngsters who would otherwise feel that Santa Claus is indeed a myth.

The Civic League's community Christmas tree will be a new feature this year and one that will appeal to both old and young as an expression of the Christmas spirit in a form that will be a delight to all.

The fraternal organizations of the city have made arrangements to give a practical demonstration of the philanthropic principles upon which they were founded. The Elks, jointly with the Red Cross and the Salvation Army, as dispensers of Logan Rush's open-handed bounty, are supplying coal to families which are without means to procure it, not alone for a few families but for all and as long as there is need of this article as essential to bodily comfort during the winter. Mr. Rush has given carte blanche to his mines to ship all the coal that may be required to carry out the purposes of the plan to keep the home fires burning and the Elks, prompted by the same generous impulses, are paying the freight and delivery charges.

With such praiseworthy examples on the part of individuals and organizations to make Christmas a merry time in so many homes where, save for the unselfish manifestation of the Christmas spirit by these persons and organizations the Day of Days would be dismal and cheerless, other persons should be moved to a liberality they have never before practiced in answering the appeals that are being made to them. If they, like those who have been mentioned, yield to the promptings of their better selves, Christmas of 1921 will, indeed, be Connellsville's best Christmas and they will be glad and happy that they have helped to make it such.

The double-header service on the trolleys is a hint to the belated Christmas shoppers to throw little more power into their buying.

By adjourning without final action on the peace treaty the Dail Electric has interfered with Santa Claus' plans to give Ireland the greatest Christmas ever known.

The refusal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow Ford to reduce coal freight rates on his railroad indicates that the federal regulatory body does not intend to allow interstates to go into the coal business.

If you have already provided for your friends you can do nothing better than devote the last buying day to making provision for the less fortunate who will ever afterward rate you as a friend.

Week of Prayer Program.
The week of prayer to open January 3 will be held on four consecutive evenings, ending on Friday, January 6. The program for the services, which will be in the form of union meetings to be held at various churches, was drawn up by a committee composed of Revs. G. W. Buckner and J. S. Showers. The choirs of the various churches will have charge of the music.

Death List Grows.
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 23.—With the death of Mrs. W. E. Harris of Continental, O., at a hospital here this morning the death toll of the gas explosion of the Wright women's store late Wednesday was increased to three.

Just Folks

SAFE CONDUCT.

There isn't any danger in the kindly things you say,
To the right and narrow in the line and many died.
No deep regret awaits you at the ending of the day.
There's always joy in knowing that you've played the friend in need.

There isn't any anguish in the cheerful words you speak.
The happy salutation never leaves a bitter sting.
No man has lost dishonor being gentle with the old.
And unkindness has never caused an hour of sorrowing.

It's the petty little failures which disturb us most at night.

The little acts of meanness and the little things we do.

The conscience never troubles us when we have done what's right.

It's when we've failed to be our best that shame begins to brew.

Oh! most of us are honest in the larger feats of life.

And most of us are brave enough in times of stress and woe.

And most of us are fine enough in days of ease and plenty.

But it's in the little things the worst begins to show.

The danger to our peace of mind lies in our selfishness.

In the little bits of speech which ought to be ours.

In pressing on so eager to achieve our own success.

That we neglect the kindly folks we pass along the way.

Murray-Prinkley.

Miss Edna Viola Murray of Greenburg, and Henry Osborne Prinkley of Moore Memorial church, were quietly married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the parsonage of the United Brethren church, Rev. J. S. Showers, the pastor, officiated. The bridegroom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Prinkley of Bullskin township. Mr. and Mrs. Prinkley will reside at Moore Memorial church.

without a pause. The mixture of romance and really go to make it a real exception picture. Bertly, Praise must be given the able support it concerns Horace Parker, a wealthy young Englishman, who is so wrapped up in himself that he imagines the world revolves around him, and that he is a minor god. self-esteem out of him, and he wins the love of the girl he lost. The Englishman who in order that his delicate wife may live in the Northern hills agrees to accept a fever-haunted post after his arrival in India. The preference offered the young man by the commissioner has nothing to do with the commission he has become intimated with the younger's wife and is hoping that the husband will be eliminated by the fever. It is said that this is a new, expressive type of role for Moreno.

PANS

To Dame Fashion rather than the ancient god Zephys are those fans dedicated. For they are created to complement my lady's gown. There is a charming red sequin fan to team a somber gown, black morning dress to accent a gay one, and a feather will do coming in daintiness. Fan of lace gleams with sequins to add its quaint touch with quaint frock.

Clerks and Methodists
Both Win Games at 'Y';
Tied for First Place

Each Winner Defeats Opponents by Very Decisive Margin.

BENEFIT GAME TONIGHT

The Methodists handed a walloping to the Fayette Bakers in a city league game at the "Y" last night and the Baltimore & Ohio Clerks handed something of the same dose to the Baptists. R. Engleka was the heavy scorer for the winning church team. He cashed nine goals. Henry and Sherrick, both of the same team, each scored five buckets. The Bakers did not make a single field goal, scoring all 12 points onfous.

The Baptists presented a patched up team at the attack of the Baltimore & Ohio Clerks. The score was 41-20.

Final goals—Black, 10 out of 16; Hannigan, 3 out of 11.

Referee—Wall.

The city firemen will play the Fayette Bakers at the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A. tonight in a benefit game, the proceeds of which will go to Ray Addis, injured member of the bakers' outfit, who is confined to his home. Although the firemen lost to the Baltimore & Ohio Clerks on Wednesday evening, it was a nip and tuck battle for a time and the smoke eaters expect to make it hot for the Kings of the oven.

The high school basketeers will get in few days of practice next week to prepare for the two games scheduled here next Friday and Saturday with German township and St. Vincent's respectively.

With the Methodists and Baltimore & Ohio Clerks both winning games last night each team remained tied for first place. The Clerks are presenting a new line-up with a view to adding strength almost every game.

The new gymnasium at South Connellsburg will be opened tonight with a game between the Captain Glass company team and the Baltimore & Ohio Clerks.

Turkey Prices Drop.
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—With Christmas approaching the wholesale price of turkeys yesterday dropped as much as 10 cents a pound, the state department of farms and markets reported. Prices ranged from 58 cents for fancy Maryland birds to 40 cents for fair western gobblers. Florida strawberries sold at the extraordinary wholesale price of $2.00 a quart.

West Penn Loser In Old Hotel Fire At Point Marion

In a fire of unknown origin early Thursday morning, the old Colonial hotel building on the corner of Main and Third avenue, Point Marion, was completely destroyed.

The hotel for many years had been abandoned to storehouse purposes and at the time of the fire three automobiles, two of which were owned by A. G. Cain and Edmund Hocquet, were in the building and were destroyed.

The lower part of the old hotel was being used entirely as a garage but in the second story was stored a large quantity of material belonging to the West Penn Power company. The total loss is estimated at about $20,000.

Sporting Squibs of All Kinds

Mollie Williams will captain the University of Wisconsin football team in 1922.

"Elbows" Killinger, Penn State's sensational backfield star, will be graduated in February.

Trix Speaker has signed a contract to manage the Cleveland American League team next season.

The annual intercollegiate swimming championship of New England will be held in Boston, March 11.

The dove of peace may lull the nations, but it never will subdue that aged longing to kill the umpire.

Joe Becket, the English heavyweight may come to the United States this winter and upset one or more of America's good heavies.

Charles E. B., quarter back of University of California's champion football team, has been elected captain for the 1922 season.

Battle Royal Monday Show, to Be Real Treat

Tiny Robinson, the hard bantling negro of Limestone Hill, whose work in the battle royal last Christmas, before the Athletic club, had the fans in an uproar during that famous set-to has been engaged to mingle again in the big feature battle royal, which is one of the many treats that are being arranged for the matinee boxing show at the local club which takes place Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Slavish hill.

Robinson is a warm favorite with local fans. His appearance in the ring will assure the crowd of fans that another old-time session is already "in." Although the battle royal is being looked upon as a special treat, the bugs are not overlooking the fact that the 10-round main bout is going to be a torrid affair. This will feature the first appearance here of K. O. Circus of Pittsburg, and battling Frandie Woltz of Latrobe. Neither boy lays claim to any championship, but their fighting slugs is enough to warrant that this contest will be worth traveling a distance to witness.

Two other bouts will make the show a banner attraction in the opener. "Dumpty" Hong of Broad Ford will oppose Julie Schlinger, a former townswoman of Hong. Hong and Schlinger are not on friendly terms and this contest should be bitterly fought.

Johnny Fundy, A. E. F. featherweight champion will mingle in the semi-final bout. Fundy made a hit here with the club's patrons when he fought Johnny Pollock of Dawson. Fundy will oppose K. O. Miller, a stable mate of Circus.

The tickets for the bouts were placed on sale this morning at the American Billiard parlor, Smith House and the Royal Hotel. As the show will be a benefit one for the poor of the city, in which the Salvation Army will receive one-third of the profits, a great turn out of boxing fans will assuredly be on hand Monday afternoon.

COACH OPPOSES BETTING

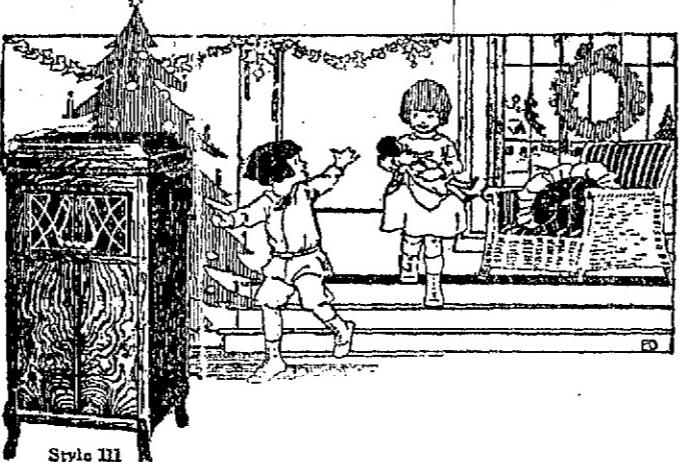

Students at the University of California are urged by Andy Smith, head football coach, not to bet on football games.

"Next year I intend to ask all student organizations to promises that they will not gamble on football games," Smith said. "Betting is getting to be a serious evil, and while I never expect it to reach the same stage as it did in horse racing, football and baseball, still it works hardships to the football players."

Happy Peckville Mother Pours Out Gratitude to Taniac for Restoring Child.

"My daughter Elsie gained 10 pounds in weight by taking Taniac, and I just can't praise the medicine enough for the marvelous way it has done for her health," said Mrs. Hatfield Williams, 343 Keystone Avenue, Peckville, Pa.

Ever since she was a child, Elsie had suffered from stomach trouble, complained of terrible headaches, was very nervous and never got the sleep she needed. She had pains in her back, arms, and in fact, all over her body and often for days at a time, wasn't able to get out of bed. When she just lay awake, nervous and restless for hours and hours, and during this she got up with a sickness a tooth in her mouth that nauseated her so she could hardly eat anything. After eating she often bloated with gas so bad she would actually faint from the smothering sensation. One time she had a dizzy, faint spell while at work, and they took her to the hospital where she stayed a long time before she was able to talk. Many times I thought I was going to lose her, and I spent hundreds of dollars trying to get her well.

"Noticing in the papers how Taniac had helped others, I decided to take it to her, and now she doesn't look like the same person. The color has come back to her face, she is energetic, never has indigestion and her nerves are strong and steady so that he sleeps like a child nights. She even complains of an ache or pain of any kind, and one could hardly tell looking at her that she ever had a sick day. I think Taniac is just wonderful."

Taniac is sold in Connellsville by the Connellsville Drug Co., and by the leading druggists everywhere—Advertisement Valley Lilies in Winter.

It is no trick at all to have the fragrant, dainty white bell of the lily of the valley in bloom in the window of the living room for the greater part of the winter, according to the national garden bureau service. If you have a patch of lilies of the valley growing in your yard, dig up a few plants this fall, selecting only the trumpet ones which contain flower buds, pot them up, say eight or ten up to an eight-inch pot. Let them remain outdoors until thoroughly frozen and then bring them in as they are wanted. As soon as they thaw out the lilies will send up their bloom with surprising speed. A number of them may be planted and left outdoors to be brought in from time to time.

IS ISLAND OF FEUDAL POMP

Rulers and People of Bali, Near Sumatra, Extremely Fond of Goryous Display.

If you search on a map of Malaya long enough you will find the Sunda Islands. They are located to the south and west of Sumatra, and, like Sumatra and Java, and other islands nearby, are under the rule of Holland. Perhaps if you have a large map you may be able to discover a tiny speck, attached to which will be the name "Bali."

The island of Bali is about 2,800 square miles in area, and is a most picturesque Isle. Long ago it was conquered by hosts from India.

Although the Dutch rule Bali, and a Hollander sits at the table about which a Balinese raja gathers his chiefs to make laws, the iron hand is light in Bali. Indeed, a Bali overlord is permitted many wives, many dancing girls, many houses and as much pomp and gorgeous display of his high estate as his most regal ancestor ever contrived to show. Feudal rule in all its magnificence—but minus much of its impressiveness—is to be seen at its best or worst in Bali today.

Some of the Balinese, particularly the farmers, are virtually serfs. But they manage to live better, perhaps, than their brothers on the mainland of India. One reason, may be, is that the caste system is not so oppressive in Bali as it is in India.

The ear of the Balinese maiden are pierced when she is a baby. When she grows up, into the lobe of her ear is thrust a cylinder of bone. When a Balinese girl becomes a wife the bone cylinders give place to cylinders of silver or gold. But when a Balinese wife achieves the proud position of a mother then the earrings vanish entirely.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ancient Form of Adornment

Tattooing, that very apparent means of proclaiming one's love for the bring deep, is an ancient form of adornment, and in ancient times most honorable. The Polynesians are known to have been adepts in the art, and from that time to this there have always been people who have been attracted to this form of beauty. These decorations have taken all sorts of forms from the plain black and white work to that in the most variegated colorings, to say nothing of the method of "wash" tattooing, which consists of cutting deep gashes in the desired design filling them with clay and then letting them remain as a sort of cameo on the skin.—Detroit News.

Hard Work.

The Vicar—I suppose you're a large family to support, Mrs. Dempsey?

Mrs. Dempsey—I have six; and if they didn't all earn their own living I couldn't manage it.—Pearson's Weekly.

The total production for the month was approximately 1,760,000 tons, up against 1,726,000 tons in November. The average production per day in November was 55,000 tons, an increase of five per cent over the daily rate for the preceding month.</

JAZZ PLAYED IN ANCIENT BABYLON

Popular Songs Were Also the Rage in Those Days.

FIRST USED ORCHESTRATION

English Archaeologist, Engaged in Study and Exploration of Assyrian Ruins for Thirty Years, Gives Some Interesting Facts About Ancient People—Paints Life in Babylon and Ur as Curiously Modern—People Deeply Religious.

Jazz and popular songs such as "Love is Blind" and "Come into the Garden," existed as long ago as the days of ancient Babylon according to Professor Stephen Langdon Professor in London, head of the Assyriology department of Oxford University, England, came to Syracuse, N.Y., to address the Syracuse Archaeological Society on "Music and Liturgies of Ancient Babylonian Worship," and opened up several new avenues of thought about the Biblical race by his description of its life.

Popular songs were sung to the music of the lute, the harp, the tambourine and the pipe. Professor Langdon declared, and about 900 B.C. the Babylonians invented orchestration from pipes which have been found, he declared, it is known that the ancients were familiar with the octave 4,000 years ago.

Life in Babylon and in Ur of the Chaldees Abraham's home town, was made to seem curiously modern by the English speaker who has been engaged in the exploration and study of Assyrian ruins for thirty years, and is accounted one of the world's greatest authorities on the subject.

World's Greatest Race
It is possible according to the scholar, to definitely date events which happened 4,500 B.C. while records of kings, which probably go back 5,000 years earlier have been unearthed. Professor Langdon described these earlier people, the Sumerians, as one of the greatest races the world has ever produced. Remains of busts and bas reliefs show them to have been handsome and of the highest physical type. They were the first to invent the art of writing and many other fundamental inventions may be attributed to them.

Professor Langdon gives the credit for the majority of the great Biblical stories to these earlier races. Even Moses had a counterpart in an older race, he declares, and likens the life of Sargon, the Assyrian ruler who was found, according to legend, floating down the current of a river in a basket, to that of Moses. The Hebrew tales of creation, the flood, and the fall of man are but adaptations of Babylonian history, the British scholar declares.

The Assyrian worship was a polytheism the speaker declared the leading deity being the virgin Mother Earth and her son, the god of the fruits of earth, whose yearly death at the time of the summer drought and whose resurrection in the springtime was the basis of most of their elaborate liturgies.

Deeply Religious.

Professor Langdon said he had been asked the question how a man who knew these things could still be a Christian, it being the popular impression, he said, that archaeologists were agnostics. This viewpoint he fails to understand, he asserts.

The Babylonians and Assyrians were a very religious people, he said. "They had an elaborate and beautiful worship." They profoundly influenced religious thought, even to our day. In their cities and temples have crumbled to ruins of their material civilization nothing remains, but their contribution to religious humanity still lives on. That to my mind proves that in human history religion is the only enduring reality."

WANT WILD HORSES KILLED

Letters in State of Washington Offer "Sport" to Those Who Are Inclined to It.

Youths who like adventure and leaps of excitement are advised to try hunting wild horses in the Oregon hills near the Canadian border of Washington. There are several thousand unfatigued caucuses in this untraveled region of steep hills and deep valleys against which settlers and agricultural land have begun a war of extermination.

The wild steeds are troublesome demolishing fence to eat and trample haystacks. The stallions entice away domesticated mares and often large herds of horses chase cows and sheep to death. Once domesticated horses are mingled with these wild ones they quickly become outlaws.

Before the present plan of shooting was adopted by ranchers they tried corralling and shipping the captured steeds to Eastern horse markets. The expense and danger of catching alive was found above possible profits. These wild broncos are vicious and often rather than submit to capture dash their drivers or by running fell into rocky ledges.

One expedition during a month of wild horse stalking shot 220 animals. Only the skins were taken. Some of the wild stallions proved to be excellent specimens one brown and sorrel estimated at 1,200 pounds weight. The mares seldom average more than 800 pounds.

Where these horses range is a sandy, bad land region between the Columbia and Rocky mountains, a great grass country, and in summer the winters are mild with light snowfall.

INSURES CROW FOR $50,000

Bird Becomes Important Part of Vaudeville Performer's Act

Jacko, a performing crow has been insured for $50,000. Jacko belongs to Bob Karna a vaudeville performer of New York and he has become such an integral part of Bob's act that he decided to take out a policy on Jacko's life. Jacko was examined, and having a touch of flat feet the faintest suspicion of a soft systolic murmur of the heart and a hereditary addiction of corn was found to be an A1 risk.

Jacko is a small bird and occupies the center of the stage. He has a set of Indian clubs all his own and bounces them skillfully. He also catches oil-laden balls that the children pitch to him from the orchestra.

He is three years old and Karna got him when he was a pup. Karna has been training him ever since and now practically all the work Karna has to do is to keep Jacko fit. No wonder he took out a $50,000 policy on a meal ticket like Jacko.

WATCH SAVES HIS LIFE

Bullet Fired From Robber's Pistol Shattered It

A watch shattered by a bullet fired by one of two robbers who were burglarizing a motor company's storehouse at Hancock Ind. at one o'clock this morning recently saved the life of Constable Barnhardt.

The robber discovered the officer approaching and fled. The bullet, after striking the watch which Barnhardt wore in his vest passed over his heart glanced and passed out through his coat.

The watch is one his brother At that time carried when he was killed by a bullet six years ago. The burglars escaped.

Temperamental

"We have several famous movie stars dining with us this evening," whispered the waiter. "Would you like to have a seat near their table?" "No," replied the soul-tired patron. "I came in here to eat, not to star gaze and besides if I want to hear them talking about the stars, they got it so well described with my prospects in life I won't feel that I could afford to tip you — Birmingham Age Herald.
